

VALKYRIE WINS
THE SECOND RACEShe Finishes Seventy Seconds
Ahead of Defender.FOULS THE AMERICAN BOAT ON THE START.

Her Boom Breaks Defender's Topmast Back Stay, Bending the Topmast Over and Cracking It—Wind Rises From Six to Twelve Miles an Hour, and the Racers Go Into a Lively Sea.

Scotland Light, Sept. 10.—The yachts came out for their second race in the America cup series, about 10 o'clock. The wind was south-south-east and blew about six miles an hour. Valkyrie had her jib and main sail and her club top sail set. Defender had up a jib, mainsail, club topsail and fore topsail.

The number of steam yachts and steamers passing out was larger than ever seen before.

The preparatory signal was set just before 11 o'clock and the Valkyrie crossed the line promptly. Defender was slower and barely missed the two-minute gun. Valkyrie got off in a windward position. The start was made at 11:10:13.

Fifteen seconds before the starting gun Valkyrie's boom broke Defender's top mast back stay bending the top mast to leeward and cracking it. Defender continued on the course holding a protest. Valkyrie was plainly at fault as Defender had the right of way.

From the Scotland Light ship it was seen that Valkyrie had the windward position, the whole excursion fleet seeming to be between the two yachts. The wind had increased to about eight miles an hour.

At 11:52 the boats were still in about the same position. Valkyrie was about a quarter of a mile in the lead. Steamboats seemed trying to give them a better chance.

At 11:01 it was reported from Sea-bright, N. J., that the Valkyrie was gaining slightly on the Defender. Valkyrie still had the windward position and appeared to be a quarter of a mile ahead, but as the yachts were going straight away it was hard to distinguish them.

At 11:15 Defender went about closely followed by Valkyrie. Defender seemed to be improving her position and gaining slightly.

Before the boats neared the stake boat the wind had risen to twelve miles an hour and a lively sea was running. The Defender gained, but not enough to make up her loss on the first leg. Valkyrie crossed the line at 2:54:48, winner by seventy seconds.

The fouling of Defender by Valkyrie may play a part in the decision.

The Defender's protest because of being fouled was entered and accepted.

Today's race was a triangle, ten miles on a side.

Wild Steers Stampede.

New York, Sept. 10.—Fifty head of Texas steers were landed at the foot of North Seventh street, Williamsburg, last evening. The cattle had been brought on a float from Jersey City, after a long rail journey, and were suffering from hunger and thirst. The entire herd immediately broke away from the drovers and scattered in all directions. Several Italian women and children were knocked down, but none of them is believed to be seriously injured. Two of the runaway steers ran head down into a trolley car. They were knocked down and stunned and then easily secured.

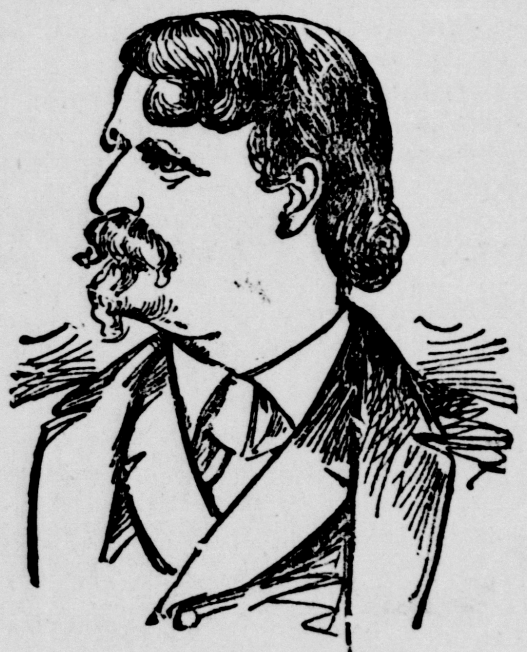

Anarchist's Identity Revealed.

Paris, Sept. 10.—The Liberte says that the identity of the miscreant who attempted to explode a bomb in the vestibule of the Rothschilds' banking house, in the Rue Lafitte, on Thursday, has been discovered. He was formerly in the employ of the Northern Railway company, and belongs to an honorable family. He is a professed anarchist, according to the Liberte, but was actuated by motives of personal revenge in his attempt to destroy the Rothschilds' bank for his dismissal from the Northern Railway's employ.

THEY GET A SOUTHERN WELCOME

Grand Army Veterans Received with Great Pomp at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 10.—The twenty-ninth encampment of the G. A. R. was opened yesterday with a parade on the arrival of Commander-in-Chief Lawler and staff, at 7:30 a. m. General Lawler and the Columbian Post of Chicago and other organizations on the escort special Monon train were met at the Union depot by members of the committees on invitation and reception in carriages. The Kentucky National Guard, local posts and other organizations were formed on Broadway, awaiting the arrival of the special train, which was on time to the satisfaction of the multitudes.

At different times during the week no less than six national conventions will be in session. These comprise the national encampment of the Grand Army and the national sessions of the Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the Grand Army, National Association of Naval Veterans, National Association of Daughters of Veterans and National Association of Union ex-Prisoners of War. In addition to these events there will be a score of more of campfires, at some of which ex-President Harrison, Governor McKinley, ex-Speaker J. Warren Keifer and other men of national reputation have promised to deliver addresses.

Hundreds of tents have been erected in each of the city parks, while all the city schoolhouses and a number of halls and other meeting places have been cleared of their furniture and will be used for temporary sleeping quarters.

The sentiment of the delegates to the encampment already on the ground seems to favor the selection of Colonel I. N. Walker of Indianapolis, as the next commander-in-chief. Colonel Walker was senior vice from 1893 to 1894, and would have been promoted to the highest office in the gift of the order at Pittsburgh last year but for the unexpected fight that was made by the friends of Colonel Lawler, who carried everything resistlessly before them. So far St. Paul is the only city seeking the honor of the next encampment, and its delegation is already on the ground.

At night dog watches were held at the Music hall, National park, Phoenix Hill and in New Albany and Jeffersonville across the river. Among the speakers were ex-President Harrison, General John B. Gordon, Henry Waterson, Major William A. Warner and Mrs. John A. Logan.

The railroads estimate that they have carried 50,000 people into Louisville. The big parade of the Grand Army of the Republic comes Wednesday morning.

All the railroads from the southern states are running trains as close together as possible, and their reports indicate that the demand for passage will continue all night. The attendance of confederate veterans is very large, and they are active in helping the people of Louisville entertain the "yankees."

Commander-in-Chief Bunday of the Sons of Veterans is quartered with Commander Lawler, and the Sons of Veterans will spend the week here en route to Knoxville, as will many who are en route to the meeting of the Army of the Tennessee and dedication of the monumental park at Chickamauga.

The weather was pleasant and everything on the opening day favorable for the most successful entertainment of the boys in blue by their brothers in gray.

TO HONOR COL. LAWLER.

Magnificent Badge to Be Presented the Commander.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 10.—One of the most pleasing incidents of the encampment will be the presentation to Commander-in-Chief Lawler by the aides de camp on his personal staff of one of the finest diamond badges ever made in this country. More than $4,500 was thus collected and the order for the badge was placed in the hands of one of the most famous jewelry firms in the country. The badge has been made and delivered, and it is said to be one of the handsomest pieces of work of the kind ever made. It is solid gold and imbedded in the metal are several large diamonds and other precious stones. All of the emblems of this order are engraved on it, and on the reverse side is an appropriate inscription giving the date of presentation and other data.

Troops Reach Havana.

Havana, Sept. 10.—The steamer Luzon has arrived here with 600 soldiers of the engineer corps. The steamers Montevideo and Buenos Ayres have also arrived, having on board battalions of the Sorla, Alava, Barcelona and Galicia regiments, comprising 140 officers and 4,123 men.

AN INDIANA TOWN
SAID TO BE ASHES

PIERCETON IS REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN BURNED.

Michigan Forest Fires Start Up Again—Dangerous Blaze at Lemars, Iowa—Kansas Cyclone Caused Greater Damage Than Was Supposed—Gridley Wiped Out.

Fort Wayne, Sept. 10.—The town of Pierceton is burning. Aid has been sent out from here.

Harbor Springs, Mich., Sept. 10.—Without fire apparatus of any kind, the inhabitants of the Island of Beaver and the little town of St. James are fighting the forest fires that have sprung up and are eating their way toward the village. Passengers on yesterday's boat from the island state that the fires are raging about the town and have driven in all of the farmers for many miles around. Thousands of dollars' worth of valuable timber has been ruined, and farm property and crops are laid waste. Only a narrow swamp is now said to separate the flames from the village.

Lemars, Iowa, Sept. 10.—Anthony Weidenfelter's farmhouse, hotel and feed barn burned last night and are a total loss. The fire started in the barn, and a sharp breeze was blowing toward the business part of the town. It is thought, however, to be under control. If confined to the hotel block the loss will not exceed $10,000.

KANSAS STORM WAS SEVERE.

Reports of the Cyclone Come In—Town of Gridley Almost Destroyed.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 10.—Sunday night's storm throughout Kansas was far more severe than was at first reported. On several railroads trains have been delayed for hours, and on some of them traffic can not be resumed for another twenty-four hours. At Independence six inches of water fell in less than one hour. The streams are rising rapidly, and great damage is anticipated.

At Fredonia the storm was the heaviest ever known there. Fully ten inches of water fell, overflowing the river, flooding the bottoms, and washing out the railroad tracks. The fair grounds are from two to four feet under water, and the Frisco and the Pacific trains are water-bound outside of the city. At Fort Scott the lower part of the city is submerged in water from the Merimaton river and Mill creek, which are out of their banks, and the water is rising with alarming rapidity. All trains are tied up, and communication by wire with the north and the south is completely shut off. Crops everywhere will suffer greatly.

DESTRUCTION WAS TOTAL.

Gridley, on the Santa Fe Road, Suffers a Heavy Loss.

Ottawa, Kan., Sept. 10.—Gridley, a town of 400 people on the Santa Fe road, fifty miles southwest of here, suffered the total destruction of many of its best buildings by Sunday night's storm. While hardly a structure in the place escaped damage, it is believed no one was severely hurt. The pecuniary loss is heavy.

About 3 o'clock Sunday a storm of wind and rain burst on the town from the northwest. The wind was what is known as a straight blow and its mischief was mainly confined to the unroofing of buildings. A downpour of rain immediately followed and amounted to a deluge, twelve inches of water falling in an incredibly short time. The rain completed the destruction that had not been accomplished by the wind, and in a few minutes every stock of goods in town had been soaked and the household possessions of most of the inhabitants were in the same condition.

Strange to say, that with all the falling roofs and walls and flying debris that broke windows far and near not a person of the town reported more than the merest personal injury. A great deal of damage is feared in the contiguous country. One farmhouse half a mile from town was completely destroyed, and one inmate, supposed to be Mrs. Clara Massie, was fatally hurt.

Train Runs Into a Washout.

Neosho, Mo., Sept. 10.—A special train of four cars of ties and lumber and a passenger coach on the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf railway was wrecked at 6:35 o'clock yesterday morning at 6:35 o'clock yesterday by running into a washout. John Fore, the engineer, and William Fitzgerald, the fireman, were killed. Jasper Rowe, a brakeman, was badly injured in the back. Several other washouts are reported near here, and train service will be abandoned for several days.

Forced to the Second Floors.

Webb City, Mo., Sept. 10.—Sunday night rain poured down for hours, and many people took refuge in second floors. The streets were sheets of water. Basements were filled, and general confusion prevailed. A careful estimate shows the damage to be from $70,000 to $100,000. The water is slowly subsiding.

Whitewash Is Complete.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—The investigation of the Dunning institution is ended. No cruelty was found, only a degree of harshness toward men patients in the crowded wards.

PLOW MAKERS QUIT
IN A MOLINE SHOP

STRIKE IN THE DEERE & CO.
FACTORY.

Fifty Men Walk Out Today—Widespread Boycott To Be Placed on Rochester Clothing by Union Men—Miners Score a Victory in Negaunee, Mich.

Moline, Sept. 10.—Fifty plow grinders in the Deere & Co. plow works struck this morning. Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 10.—General Secretary Richards said last night that a boycott would be made on all Rochester made clothing throughout the country. In company with General Organizer Schoenfeld he visited the clothing manufacturers of the city and informed them that unless they promised to have nothing to do with the strike and let the contractors fight it out alone, the sale of their goods would be stopped in every city in the country. In the afternoon a mass meeting was held at which Mr. Schoenfeld invited the wives of the strikers to say whether they wanted their husbands to go back to work or not, and the women unanimously voted that their husbands should stay out.

Negaunee, Mich., Sept. 10.—The striking miners scored a big victory yesterday by inducing thirty-four non-union men, who were bound to Ishpeming on a train to desert and join their ranks. Pump men at the Lake Superior section 21 mine at Ishpeming returned to work at noon in order to save the Winthrop mine from being flooded. The Calumet company of militia has been transferred from Ishpeming to Champion to protect men operating ore crushers there.

HANDY WITH HIS RAZOR.

Jealous Indianapolis Molder Furnishes a Sensation.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 10.—Lon Rooker, a molder employed at the Indianapolis Car works, murdered his wife last night by cutting her throat. He also attempted to kill Mrs. Emma Pees, of No. 79 Rhode Island street, slashing her about the head and face with a razor, making wounds from which it is believed she will not recover. Rooker made an attempt to escape, and stepped to the front door with the bloody razor in his hand. Seeing that it would be impossible to do so on account of the crowd of men who had gathered about the door, he made some remark about killing the first man who attempted to lay hands on him, and then cut his own throat. The blood spurted from the wound and the man after staggering about for a few minutes, fell. The crowd started for him, but he arose and held the men at bay with the razor. He then left the house and ran three squares, followed by a great crowd. He was finally captured. Jealousy was the cause of the crime, which was premeditated. Rooker lay in wait all afternoon for the opportunity, which came about 6 o'clock.

TELL OF FRESH OUTRAGES.

Turkish Troops Sack Villages and Kill Armenians.

London, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Kars, Armenia, says that the entire district of Kemaks is surrounded by Turkish troops dispatched by Zekki Pasha under the plea of arresting Armenian revolutionaries. The villages of Carni, Tiruguegnar, Tortan, Horoput and Marig are reported to be completely sacked, and the population, aggregating 5,000 people, were ill-treated. The men were tortured and the women and children were assaulted. The four monasteries of Auakwank, Sourphop, Thervorithchoga and Souphagap were sacked and the altars and images were destroyed. Authentic information from Moush is to the effect that an anti-Christian society of Turkish officials has been formed there and at Bitlis with the avowed intention to slaughter the Christians in the event of the acceptance by the porte of the scheme of reforms presented by the powers.

NO RELIEF YET.

Situation at the Burning Osceola Copper Mine About the Same.

Houghton, Mich., Sept. 10.—The situation at the Osceola mine remains about the same as it was Sunday. Captain Richards and Captain Edwards, with a small gang of men, went down the No. 5 shaft yesterday morning and succeeded in getting within about two hundred feet of No. 4, when they became afraid to go further and returned to the surface as fast as possible. Every shaft on the location has been tightly sealed, to remain so until tomorrow. Many thousands again visited the mine yesterday, and when this latter announcement was made the frantic cries of the heart-broken mothers, sons and daughters could be heard all over the location. How the fire originated is a great mystery. Captain Richards thinks it is the work of incendiaries, while others say that it was undoubtedly due to carelessness on the part of the miners.

Dynamite Victims Buried.

Dubuque, Iowa, Sept. 10.—The inquest in the dynamite disaster was adjourned until to-day. The bodies of the Latshaw family were interred at Victor, Wis., and that of Bjordsen at La Crosse.

TALES OF CHINESE MASSACRES

The Investigating Commission Has Finally Got Down to Work.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 10.—Private letters from Shanghai announce that the commission appointed by the British and American governments to investigate the Ku Cheng massacre of Aug. 1 reached Foo Chow Aug. 13, Sukow two days later, and Ku Cheng Aug. 17, without molestation from the barbarous hordes alleged by Chinese officials to have established a reign of terror throughout the province.

The commission, consisting of the British consul, R. W. Mansfield, the American consul, J. Courtenay Hixson; the British vice-consul, E. L. B. Allen, from Padoga anchorage; Lieutenant Evans, of the United States steamer Detroit; Rev. W. Bannister representing the English Church Missionary society, and Dr. Gregory, of the American Methodist Episcopal Mission, had an escort of 100 of the viceroy's soldiers, a circumstance which supports but feebly the Chinese contention that the massacre was entirely beyond official prevention, owing to the country being in revolt. This defense is regarded by all British and American residents in Chinese territory as quite as farcical as the commission, unsupported as it is by any display of British or American force, and indignation runs high at the apathy displayed by these governments in regard to the massacre.

The commission, at last advices, had received the statements of three witnesses—Dr. Gregory, of the American mission at Foo Chow; Rev. H. E. Phillips, and Miss Harman, of Ku Cheng, the two last having been eye-witnesses of the fearful scenes of Aug. 1.

Dr. Gregory tells how the news was first brought to him by messenger from Rev. Mr. Phillips, and how, when he went at once to the yamen, he found hundreds of people already gathered there.

"The district magistrate, Wong, told me he would immediately go to Hwasang," said Dr. Gregory, "taking some sixty soldiers with him, and at 3 p. m. I left under an escort of thirteen soldiers, and arrived at Hwasang at 8, to find that nine adults, all English subjects, had been murdered, and that all those alive at Hwasang had been severely injured. I at once set to work to make the injured as comfortable as possible, and found my task was indeed a difficult one."

After describing the extent and nature of the injuries inflicted, Dr. Gregory says:

"The massacre was undoubtedly committed by some members of the secret society known as the Vegetarians, and the murder was done to order, deliberately planned and executed by a party of eighty men, armed with spears and swords, and showing evidence of military discipline. The members of the mission band had no suspicion of the attack, which was swift and terrible, the whole affair being over in much less time than it takes to tell it."

Though Dr. Gregory does not hold the native officials responsible as having been directly concerned in the massacre, he believes they had knowledge that it was contemplated, but remained inactive owing to their dread of the Vegetarians' power. For the same reason, he says, unless Great Britain and the United States assert themselves with emphasis, the matter will go no farther than a formal inquiry that will ascertain nothing more than the horrible facts, already too well known, and, perhaps, an expression of official regret—small reparation for the Christian lives lost.

ANOTHER DURRANT RUMOR.

Startling Disclosures Promised by Attorneys for the Defense.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 10.—An evening paper prints a sensational story about the defense which will be offered in the trial of Theodore Durrant for the murder of Blanche Lamont. The statement is credited to a person connected with the defense, and is as follows: "The alibi will be strong, but the defense has witnesses to show that Durrant not only did not commit the murder, but will indicate who did it. There will be more than one implicated in the murder. Witnesses will testify that they saw the girl enter the church on the fatal afternoon with a certain man, and at that time a second man was in the church. There the defense will rest its inquiry. It will not attempt to prove that these parties did commit the murder. The statements as to this are so direct that they will leave no ground for the prosecution to stand on, so far as Durrant is concerned."

Not Afraid of Indian Troubles.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The Indian office has received no intimation of trouble at the Rosebud Sioux agency. Recently the agents there were instructed to reduce the prices paid for hauling supplies, etc., to a fair price, it being held that they were about three times as high as they should be. If the Indians did not care to do the work at the lower prices the agents were instructed to contract with white men for it. No real trouble is anticipated.

The Terre Haute Express Robbery.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 10.—The investigation completed yesterday into the counts of Vandallia City Ticket Agent Barnett shows he is $275 short. The Adams Express officials say that so far they can find nothing stolen by Cashier Farden but the $15,000 package and several hundred dollars in money.

ARSON PRISONER
ACTS AS IF CRAZY

KENOSHA TRIAL DEVELOPS
ANOTHER SENSATION.

Barney I. Block Refuses To Testify, and Acts So Peculiarly That a Doctor Is Summoned—Old Resident of Racine Instantly Killed at a Grade Crossing Today.

Kenosha, Sept. 10.—The arson case here furnished another sensation today. Barney I. Block, one of the principal defendants in the case, refused to testify and acted so strangely that a doctor was called who pronounced him insane. The case comes up Friday.

Old Man Killed on a Crossing.

Racine, Sept. 10.—Henry Halberstadt, one of the wealthiest farmers in the county, was instantly killed at a railway crossing, near here this morning. His horse was also killed and thrown fifty yards. Halberstadt was terribly mangled. He was eighty-five years old.

Mill Burned by Incendiarists.

Reedsburg, Sept. 10.—The large flour mill at LaValle, near here, owned by J. W. Gate burned this morning. The loss is seventeen thousand dollars; insurance thirteen. This is the third time it has been burned in three years. Incendiarists are held responsible.

BAD FOR HINSHAW.

Physician Testifies that His Wounds Were Self-Inflicted.

Danville, Ind., Sept. 10.—In the trial of the Rev. William E. Hinshaw yesterday, Dr. Dryden, who was on the stand when court adjourned Saturday, was not recalled, but Dr. William Fletcher of Indianapolis, one of the most reliable authorities in the country on cerebral localization, was placed on the witness stand. Regarding the preacher's wounds he said they indicated self-infliction.

Elisha Marker, who lived across the street from Hinshaw on the night of the murder, was one of the first to arrive. The minister told him some one had shot his wife and the shot awakened him; that he jumped from bed and fought the burglar through four rooms and into the street. The following Sunday Hinshaw told him he had forgotten how it happened. Witness looked for tracks, but could find none but the defendant's. His wife testified to about the same thing and further said that when she heard the shots she looked out the window and saw the minister running from the house in a stooping position. In describing his fight with the burglars Hinshaw said: "At that time I had murder in my heart."

VICTORY FOR CUBAN REBELS.

Insurgents Said to Have Captured the City of Puerto Principe.

New York, Sept. 10.—A great Cuban battle has been fought in Puerto Principe, with the defeat of the Spanish and the capture of the capital by the insurgent forces, according to a dispatch to the New York World from its special correspondent sent to Havana.

It is said that a strong force of Spanish troops left the City of Puerto Principe to make a bold attack upon the insurgents, who were besieging the town. The insurgents fled after making a weak resistance, but it was only to draw the Spanish troops into an ambush. Once in the trap the Spanish were attacked in the front by Gen. Antonio Maceo and in the rear by Gen. Gomez. The rebel forces obtained a complete victory and entered the capital triumphant, 14,000 strong. How near the truth this statement is cannot be ascertained, but Gen. Campos' immediate departure for Neuvaatid the very day he arrived here is suggestive of the happening of something serious.

Coffins Are Again on Trial.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 10.—The second trial of Percival B. and Francis A. Coffin, charged with having assisted in the wrecking of the Indianapolis national bank, begins today in the United States court. The accused men were tried fourteen months ago and were convicted. Francis A. Coffin was sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years and Percival B. Coffin for seven years. After they had served ten days in prison they were released by Justice Harlan of the Supreme court. Last January the Supreme court granted them a new trial. They were then proprietors of the Indianapolis Cablet company, which was in debt to the bank about $800,000 at the time of the failure of the bank.

South Carolina Convention.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 10.—The constitutional convention meets to-day at noon. It is composed of 110 reform democrats, forty-four conservative democrats, and six negro republicans. The object in calling the convention is to adopt a constitution, having in view a modification of the election laws. Governor Evans will be elected president of the convention without opposition.

Duluth Iron Workers Strike.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 10.—The hundred men employed by the Marinette iron works struck last night because of non-payment of wages.

BUSY SESSION HELD BY THE ALDERMEN

UNIFORM CHARTER PROVISIONS ARE ADOPTED.

City Can Now Help the Hospital if They So Desire—Highway, Street and Bridge Committee's Stone Crusher's Action Endorsed—Water Suit To Go On—Other Business.

Last night's council meeting as will be seen by a reference to it in another column, was a hot one in more ways than one and much important business was transacted. Briefly stated, the action taken was as follows:

The highway street and bridge committee were endorsed in their action in contracting with the Austin stone crusher company for a crusher, on one year trial, the action being the cause of the unpleasantness near the end of the session. Ryan & Brown were awarded the contract for grading Fifth avenue. Dr. W. H. Palmer submitted a hospital proposition. The ordinance allowing the city to help the hospital was adopted, as was also the ordinance adopting portions of the uniform charter under the suspension of the rule. A proposition to settle the water suit, if possible, outside the courts, was voted down. The matter of sidewalks about the new high school was referred to the highway and bridge committee with power to act, and enlarge the grounds, in building the walk, by narrowing the street, if possible.

Session Was a Long One.

The session lasted until 10:30 o'clock. All the aldermen were present except Alderman Smith. The journal covering four sessions was read, occupying twenty-five minutes, after which City Clerk Badger presented Dr. Clark's certificate that John Callahan had been suffering with a broken rib which was referred to the judiciary committee and they were given further time.

Chief Engineer Spencer's report, showing that the department had responded to 37 alarms since January 1, a larger number by six than at the same time last year; while the losses had been greatly reduced. All the apparatus was in good shape, he said, but he would recommend some steps to protect the hydrants from frost. He also recommended the payment of $19.50 to Con Murphy, the call man who was injured while on duty, to defray his doctor's bill and the expense of hiring a man to do his work in the mean time. The report was referred to the fire and water committee and further time was granted.

City Clerk Badger said he had received one bid for the grading of Fifth avenue, it being from Ryan & Brown and offering to do the work for 22 1/2 cents per cubic yard. Alderman McLean moved that the contract be awarded to them which motion was adopted.

Mayor Against the Crusher.

Mayor Baines then stated that one of the evening papers had said that the highway and bridge committee had "purchased" a stone crusher on the recommendation of the mayor. This he denied, and said that he did not favor buying a stone crusher this fall.

The following communication addressed to the council was then read: Knowing that the city of Janesville is in need of a place to care for emergency cases, and as I have completed what is known as the Palmer Memorial Hospital, I desire to offer to the city of Janesville that I will place all cases that come under the head of emergency in the hospital and give them the best of surgical and medical care at the rate of three hundred dollars a year, providing that at no time a case should require night nurse hire, and in that event it would add ten dollars per week for such nurse hire. I hereby submit the above proposition. Very truly, W. H. PALMER.

Ordinances Passed.

After the mayor had submitted his appointments of election officers, the list appearing in another column, and the same had been confirmed, Alderman Heddles of the finance committee, reported in favor of reducing Paul Olson's taxes, he being assessed, through mistake, on $500 instead of $50, which was adopted. Alderman Heddles also reported favorably on a number of bills, which report was also adopted.

Alderman Burnham then moved that the ordinance giving the city the power to help the hospital be given its third reading and put upon its passage which motion was adopted, all voting aye except Alderman McLean and Hemming. Alderman Burnham then brought up the matter of the ordinance adopting portions of the uniform charter, moved that the rules be suspended and the ordinance passed to its third reading. The motion was adopted, all voting aye.

Alderman Burnham then stated that he had a resolution to introduce in regard to the suit between the city and water company which he desired to submit. He said he had voted for the present proceedings; he believed in city ownership, and believed in compelling the company to do all that they should do. But he had been thinking the matter over a good deal since then, and thought it would be a good move to effect a settlement, if possible, outside of the courts.

The Resolution Introduced.

"The city ought to know whether or not the water company's statement is true," he said. "I believe that the sentiment of the tax payers is in favor of city ownership," he continued, "and also in favor of settlement. The company say they are in possession of certain payers, etc., giving the cost of the works, which the city, and no representative of the city, has yet seen. I have prepared this resolution which I will now introduce."

WHEREAS—A difference exists between the city of Janesville and the Janesville water company, caused by their report to the city of the cost of the water works, and action having been taken by the council, authorizing the commencement of a suit seeking to annul the franchise given Turner, Clark & Rawson for the construction of water works in this city; and whereas a suit is liable to be expensive to the city, and years before it be finally determined, the council believes it would be of the best interest to the city of Janesville if an agreement with the Janesville water company could be made without going into court; and whereas the Janesville water company claim to have in their possession papers giving the cost of the water works, which have never been examined by the common council, or any representative of the city of Janesville, and the water company claim that they are anxious to have such papers examined by the city; and whereas such examination might result in the opening of negotiations looking to the settlement between the city and water company.

Resolved, By the common council of the city of Janesville that we meet in the council room Wednesday, September 11, at 10 p. m., as a committee of the whole for the purpose of examining any papers that the Janesville water company may present touching the cost of the water works; that the city clerk furnish the city attorney and M. G. Jeffris with a copy of this resolution and resolution and notify them that the common council desires them to meet with the committee and represent the city in any examination that may be had; that he furnish E. M. Hyzer, the attorney for the Janesville water company, with the same papers, and invite him or any representative of the water company to meet the committee and present any papers touching the cost of the water works or make any propositions looking to a settlement of the differences now existing between the city of Janesville and the Janesville water company that he may desire.

Resolution Was Defeated.

Alderman Heddles suggested going slow, as the city attorney was not present, and intimated that the resolution was inspired by the defense. This Alderman Burnham denied, and said that he drew the document himself and that no one else had anything to do with it.

"I am not representing the water company," he said "but I do represent the people of the Second ward. This resolution is my own idea."

"Was it on the authority of the committee that this new proceeding was commenced?" asked the mayor.

"I understood that it was on the authority of the council," replied Alderman Heddles.

"Was it unanimous?" asked Alderman McLean.

"Didn't M. G. Jeffris draw that committee's report?" asked Alderman Winslow. "I am in favor of city ownership, but I favor taking the case out of the court."

Alderman McLean called on Alderman Sutherland, was a member of the committee. Alderman Sutherland said that they "had been shown things that indicated crooked work," and quoted Mr. Maxey's alleged answer to Secretary G. G. Sutherland's refusal to sign the statement of cost—"You haven't back bone enough."

Mayor Baines said he was in favor of city ownership, but would like to see the thing settled up. Alderman Burnham's motion was then put and lost, the vote standing:

Ayes—Aldermen Burnham, Inman, Winslow—3.

Noes—Ald. Heddles, Hemming, McLean, Kothman, Sutherland, Stearns. Alderman Inman voted for the resolution, as he said he could not see where it would result in either good or harm. Alderman McLean prefaced his vote by the statement that he wished to "back up the committee."

Hasty Orders Adopted.

Orders were then adopted as follows: By Alderman McLean—Directing the clerk to advertise for bids on coal for the season of 1895 '96 as follows: Twenty tons of range coal, five tons of No. 4 coal, to be delivered as ordered. Adopted. Also, an order for a block crosswalk on the east side of Marion street across Milwaukee street. Adopted.

By Alderman Kothman—An order for a tile culvert across Holmest street on west side of Cherry street; also to build a block crosswalk across Lincoln street on north side of North street; also repair the culvert on the southeast corner of Jackson and Center streets. Adopted. Also to repair the intersection of Pleasant and River streets and also to repair the approach to Pleasant street bridge. Adopted.

By Alderman Winslow—An order for a crosswalk across Park street on the north side of South Second street. Adopted.

By Alderman Inman—An order for a block crosswalk across St. Lawrence at the intersection of Lincoln street. Adopted.

By Alderman Stearns—An order for a crosswalk across Madison street, south side Olive street; also across Olive street west side Olive street, also repair the intersection of Madison and Olive street, also build a crosswalk across Mineral Point avenue, west side Terrace street. Adopted.

Ryan & Brown Get Extension.

Alderman Burnham moved that Ryan & Brown be awarded an extension of twenty days on their contract for grading Fifth avenue. Adopted.

By Alderman Heddles—An order for a block crosswalk on the west side of North Jackson street, across Mineral Point avenue. Adopted.

By Alderman Sutherland—An order to serve legal notice on the owner of lot 6, block 10, Dawson's subdivision, to build a sidewalk. Adopted.

Alderman McLean said that he had been requested to bring up the matter of new walks around the new high school. The walks would have to be built out of the general fund, and he moved that it be referred to the highway and bridge committee with power to act; also investigate the mayor's suggestion of narrowing up the street and making a grass plot in about the building which motion was adopted.

Alderman Burnham then opened the ball that led to the stone crusher row, which is told of elsewhere, and after the discussion and scene there noted had been enacted, Alderman Winslow said that the Aurora crusher firm would put in a machine beside the Austin crusher ordered by the council.

Motion Was Lost.

He suggested that the city run the two crushers side by side for a year, and buy the best one but his motion to that effect was lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Burnham, Heddles, Kothman, Winslow—4.

Noes—Hemming, Inman, McLean, Stearns, Sutherland—5.

Alderman McLean then moved that the action of the committee in making the contract for a crusher be approved, which motion was adopted, the vote being as follows:

Ayes—Hemming, Inman, Kothman, McLean, Stearns, Sutherland—6.

Noes—Burnham, Heddles, Winslow—3.

The proposition from the Western Wheel Scraper company in regard to the stone crusher, to which reference has been made, was read, it being drawn up by Mr. Emmeron, but signed by Mr. Ogg as state agent for Wisconsin. The proposition was one by which the Western Wheel Scraper Co., of Aurora, agree to deliver a No. 10 crusher, fourteen foot elevator, and a revolving screen, free on board cars, to be used in the quarries of Janesville for a year from its arrival and if it filled the guarantee the city was to pay $700, being $100 less than the Austin machine contracted for.

AIR BLUE WITH TALK, SOME OF IT SHARP

ALDERMAN McLEAN MAKES BRIBERY CHARGES.

Insisted That He Had Been Offered Money by Stone Crusher Men, and Is "Called Down" by the Mayor for His Language—Crusher Agents Deny and Explain the Charge.

The air in the common council chamber was charged with talk of bribery last night, and Alderman J. B. McLean was charged with language that ill became a man in his position, regardless of circumstances. When the matter of the stone crusher came up, Alderman McLean acted as if a red rag had been shaken in his face. Alderman Burnham shook the rag, which took the form of an inquiry as to what right the committee had to make a contract with the Austin Crusher Company for a machine on a year's trial. Alderman Burnham hardly got the words out of his mouth before Alderman McLean was on his feet. He said the committee had looked into it, and the city had to have a crusher. The Western Wheel Scraper Company (whose written proposition lay unread on the clerk's desk) had tried to bulldoze the committee and wanted to bulldoze the council. If they wanted to buy up the council they had better declare themselves before the whole body.

Crusher Man Denied It.

Then W. B. Ogg of Madison, one of the crusher agents arose and said that he did not desire to "buy his way through the council" and that his written proposition would make the thing plain. He wanted the proposition in Clerk Badger's hands, read. The committee, he continued, had agreed to give his firm a show, but when he came here the second time he was met by the statement:

"We have ordered a crusher; you are too late."

He held that this was a breach of faith and said that he made the same statements to Alderman Hemming that he had to Alderman McLean, explaining, that as there was no agent here, the agent's commission, $50, could therefore be saved.

Then Alderman McLean said that the committee had seen fit to make an agreement that the Austin crusher be put in for a year's trial.

Alderman Burnham asked by what authority the committee could do so without consulting the council.

Alderman McLean said that they considered the crusher a part of the roller and had consulted the city attorney.

Alderman Winslow said that City Attorney McElroy had said that he was under the impression that the committee had been instructed to both buy machines, which fact he afterwards learned was untrue.

McLean Used Bad Language.

Then Alderman McLean let his temper get the better of his judgment and made an exhibition of himself. Mr. Emmerton, the other crusher man, asked for a chance to say a word in regard to the bribery business. Mr. Emmerton said that he had stated that he could save the city $100, and marked the figures on a post in Alderman McLean's saloon. The bribery story was the result of a misunderstanding, he insisted, in construing his statement that the city could save $100.

"The gentleman is a liar! A mean, low, contemptible liar!" Alderman McLean shouted at the top of his voice.

"You offered me $100 to knock out the deal!" he yelled with considerable emphasis and a good many linguistic embellishments, "and you cannot deny it! You are a low, dirty, mean, contemptible liar and a—puppy!"

Mayor Baines pounded his desk with his gavel vigorously.

"Alderman McLean you sit down!" he called. "Your language is hardly proper."

"How do you want me to talk?" demanded the irate alderman.

"This is not the place to use such language" replied the mayor and he proceeded to drown out the alderman's voice with the gavel.

McLean Wanted to Fight.

When the Fifth ward alderman moved to adjourn, it was with a voice that boded further trouble, and after the motion had been carried, he arose and strode to the center of the room.

"Now do you want anything of me?" he called facing the crusher agents, and for a time it looked as if there would be a fight in the council chamber. There was loud talk and trouble seemed imminent, when Alderman Winslow pushed his way through, and grabbing Alderman McLean by the shoulders, pushed him out of the room and down stairs. Before the hubbub was settled, however, so much noise had been made that the sleeping members of the fire department, in the room below, had been awakened, and turned out in their emergency clothes, to see what the row was.

Inman Also Had a Tale.

Alderman Inman also had a few words to say in regard to outside influences. He charged that Alderman Burnham had made some statements that did not do the highway, street and bridge committee any great amount of honor; and that the thought that Alderman Burnham had better be a little more careful in posting himself, before he made charges. Burnham lost no time in getting to his feet, and said that Alderman Inman had misconstrued his statement that "they were in together." Alderman Inman had taken it to mean that Alderman Burnham was speaking of the committee while Alderman Burnham insisted that the phrase had been applied to the roller and crusher manufacturers, he saying that with them it was, "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours." Alderman Winslow, who had heard the conversation, corroborated Alderman Burnham, saying that Alderman Inman had misunderstood Alderman Burnham.

These were the unpleasant features of the session. The business done by the aldermen, and the outcome of the discussions are told in the report of the council meeting proper, in another column.

THE NOXIOUS RUSSIAN THISTLE

It Has Begun to Flourish in Wisconsin—Warning to Farmers.

More Russian thistles than ever before are to be found in fields along railroad tracks this fall. It is a very harmless looking plant when it first comes up, and is then relished by the cattle, but when it gets to this period of the year it becomes hard and indigestible. The Russian thistle was last year added to the list of Wisconsin noxious weeds by the legislature, and though it has not yet attained any great prominence in the county, it is likely to do so if not checked in time. It is a large prickly plant with slender branching stems, rising as high as three or four feet. The flowers are circular, and almost innumerable, each being at this period of the year furnished with a seed. The seeds do not begin to distribute before winter, and then they make up for lost time.

REPAIRS ON THE AFTON BRIDGE

Gang of C. & N. W. Men At Work—Sixty Children Go To School.

Afton, Sept. 10.—The C. & N. W. iron bridge across Basscreek, is being repaired under the supervision of Foreman Allen. W. section force, and his place is filled by John G. Kilmer. Afton school opens the fall term with sixty scholars enrolled. That stylish and elegant equipage which appeared on our streets last Sunday, was the new phaeton which Frank P. Starr has recently purchased in Janesville, and the genial professor occupied the front seat and handled the reins. Peter Drafahl is having his house plastered, and he is sure that his arms are longer, because of the immense amount of mortar which he has carried to workmen. Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Waite left last Wednesday for their former home in Grafton, N. Y., being called thither by the illness of Mrs. Waite's mother. Clarence and Bessie Seales returned from an extended visit with relatives in Winnebago county, Ill. Mrs. William Brinkman and children are visiting with relatives at Bartlett, Ill. Mrs. Edward Hammel returned Monday from a visit with her mother who resides at Watertown, Wis. A. and Mrs. William G. Waite came up from Woodstock, Ill., and dined with Afton relatives Sunday. PETER CARTWRIGHT LIVES.
Rev. Mr. Wotton's experience with ruffians has been the theme of admiring comment throughout the state. Colonel Nicholas Smith, who is a strong believer in the church militant, is prompted to say in his Fond du Lac paper:

It was supposed that all the Peter Cartwrights were dead long ago; but one in Janesville has come to view in the person of Rev. W. H. Wotton, rector of Trinity church, of that city. Last Wednesday, five half drunken toughs, with reckless and wicked daring, tried to board an excursion boat which was carrying the Sunday school of his church. They were armed with brass knuckles and were bent on having a row. Single handed and alone he grappled the scoundrels and kept them from encroaching on the gang-plank while all the women and children were put on board. The rector was master of the situation and in the hard struggle he felled some of his antagonists to the ground.

This refreshing incident calls to mind the many interesting scenes in the life of the famous Peter Cartwright, who in the early days of Methodists rode to the various circuits in Illinois, preaching where no other minister dare go. No gang of toughs, however desperate, had any terror for him. Frequently they would try to break up his meetings, when he would doff his coat and sail into the crowd, knocking them right and left and strewing the ground with the victims of his courage and strength. The same gang never attempted the second time to disturb his services. He became famous throughout the country as the "Fighting Parson," and never in all his long life and marvelous career did he shrink a single duty because of any personal danger which may seem to surround its discharge. The race of "Parson Cartwrights" is well nigh extinct. There should be more of them. Poor Haddock was along that line, but he was unfortunate and lost his life when he could have done his cause more good by saving it. We are glad that Wisconsin has the Cartwright grit, sense, and courage in the person of the Rev. Mr. Wotton.

WE ARE GROWING.
Janesville is no longer a country town. All she needed to make her a metropolis was a boodling sensation and this has come. Moreover, nobody can read the report of last night's meeting of the council without finding many suggestions of aldermanic methods in Chicago. When aldermen in a little place like Janesville can fill the air with fists and bad words there remains but little that Chicago can teach us.

It looked all the time as if Oshkosh was playing off—showing such an anxiety over water. The explanation has come at last. Those Oshkosh people care no more for water than ever. They have been after "trading stock," that's all, and having cornered all the fluid in Lake Winnebago (for mechanical purposes only) are now offering it to Appleton and Neenah in dribbles.

Wisconsin comes to the front nearly two millions strong, according to the new census. The gain since 1890 has been about 15 per cent and Rock county has more than done her share, just as she does when there are republican majorities to be given.

Let's have a stone crusher—two of them—one for each ward, if necessary—but let's not have any more scenes like that in the council last night.

"You're a liar" and "You're another," don't look well on the official minutes of the council.

HOT CORN! HOT CORN!
How to Select and Cook This Seasonable Vegetable.
In buying corn select those ears that are thickest and best filled. Test the corn by piercing a kernel with the thumb nail. If the milk flows freely it is in good condition. Be sure the husks are green and the corn white. There are many ways of cooking corn, but the most popular and the best way is to boil it, says Philadelphia Times. To do this properly, remove the outside husks, turn down the inside ones, leaving them on the ear, remove every particle of silk and cut away any imperfections from the ear; turn the inside husks back, so that they completely envelop the ear; tie them together with a strip of the husk and lay them in a large, clean agate kettle; cover deeply with layers of the outside husks, pour in enough cold water to just come to the edge of the corn, but not to cover the layer of husks. Now, cover the kettle with the lid, stand it on the stove with a quick fire, and after it comes to a boil let it boil just four minutes, then set it off the stove where it will keep hot. Cover a large platter with fresh green husks, out-standing like a fringe. Lay a large napkin in the center and, removing the corn from the kettle, pile it on the napkin, then fold the four corners of the napkin and serve.
Roast Corn.—Remove the husks and silks from each ear and lay them in front of a bright coal fire or under the flame of a gas boiler; turn frequently till each ear is a rich brown all over; roll in a napkin and serve at once with plenty of fresh butter.
Corn Fritters.—Grate the corn from six ears into a deep bowl; add to this the yolks of three eggs; stir them well with the grated corn; season with half a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of red pepper, or black pepper if preferred; to this add a pint of cream or rich milk and enough flour to make a stiff batter; beat the whites of the three eggs to a froth and stir them very quickly into a batter; have a kettle of smoking hot fat ready, and with a large spoon or ladle drop the fritters into the fat one by one, and let them fry until a light brown.

Why Farmers Are Not Prosperous.
"Do you know why our farmers are not more prosperous?" asked Jim McCue, the Marin county rancher, politician, horse doctor and philosopher. "Well, I'll tell you," he continued, without waiting an answer. "It is because the farmer, rancher and dairyman thinks he must sell everything to the commission merchant or the retailer. He drives into town with a wagon load of butter and eggs or water-melons, sells them in ten minutes for whatever the storekeeper will pay, plays pedro the rest of the day and goes home with a couple of plugs of tobacco, a bottle of whisky and some bad cigars. Then at the end of the year he wonders why he has made nothing. "Once a San Rafael butcher went to a neighbor of mine to buy a steer. "What do you want for him?" asked the butcher. "Oh, about $30." "Beef is worth only 4 cents on foot now, and he won't weigh over 400 pounds. I'll give you $16 for him." "All right; take him." "I can't take him right now. Besides he's too poor to kill." "All right; leave him here till you get ready to take him away." "The butcher left him till fall and then he weighed about 700 pounds. When he took him away, the farmer said: "When you kill that beef I'd like to have a quarter." "All right; I'll send it down." "A few days later the farmer stopped in at the butcher's shop to settle up. "Oh, yes; glad to see you. Got your bill all made," said the butcher, and he handed out this statement: 'Mr. Farmer, creditor, by one 400-pound steer, at 4 cents, $16; debtor, to one hind quarter of beef, 185 pounds, at 10 cents, $18.50; balance, $2.50.' "The farmer had given his beef and $2.50 for a hind quarter rather than put in a day slaughtering, and then he wonders why there is no money in farming. If he could just raise a crop of brains he would be all right."

Boston Masons May Build a Temple.
Boston, Mass., Sept. 10.—The board of directors of Masonic Temple have decided to repair the burned building at once for temporary occupancy. It is, however, practically assured that a proposition which involves the building of the most magnificent Masonic Temple in the world will be laid before a special meeting of the grand lodge to be held in the near future.

Gold Still Going Abroad.
New York, Sept. 11.—Gold to the amount of $1,200,000 was withdrawn from the sub-treasury yesterday for shipment to Europe. This withdrawal brought the treasury's gold reserve down to about $97,300,000. It was expected that the Belmont-Morgan syndicate would make a large deposit of gold in the sub-treasury, restoring the reserve to $100,000,000, but no deposit was made.

DECISION IN OMAHA CASE.
Fire and Police Board Controversy to Be Settled.
Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 10.—Though the supreme court may not meet before the 17th of the present month it can be stated on reliable authority that the judges have reached a decision on the Omaha fire and police board controversy, and that when the judges do meet again an opinion will be handed down sustaining the contention of the new board and ousting the old commissioners. The opinion will be the joint work of the full court and unanimous. It will sustain the constitutionality of the law passed by the late legislature, and uphold the position maintained by Attorney-General Churchill and Land Commissioner Russell as against that of Governor Holcomb. The information which leaked out last evening is not generally known, and will cause much surprise in Omaha.

A SOURCE OF SURPRISE.
To Physician and Patient Alike.
Dr. Redmond, a specialist in the study and treatment of Piles and rectal diseases, recently stated that the Pyramid Pile Cure, the new discovery for the cure of piles, was the most remarkable remedy he had ever seen or tried in one respect; and that was, the instant relief experienced in all cases, no matter how severe, from the moment the remedy was applied; this was the more surprising to him, because he had carefully analyzed the preparation and no trace of opium, cocaine or similar poison could be detected.
Physicians look with great favor upon the Pyramid Pile Cure, because it is rapidly taking the place of surgical operations and because it is so simple, so easily applied and contains no mineral or other poisons so commonly used in pile cures.
Dr. Easterbrook reports that the Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures the various forms of piles, but never fails to give immediate relief on the first application, no matter how severe the pain or discomfort may be.
People who have suffered from piles for years are often astonished at the instant relief experienced from the first application. Another important advantage is the fact that anyone can use the remedy without detention from business or interference with daily occupation.
Mr. J. W. Rollins of Sweet Springs, Mo., writes: "I consider the Pyramid Pile Cure without an equal; it cured me in less than 30 days. I waited 15 days or more to be sure I was fully cured before writing you; I can now say I am cured and I shall recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure at every possible opportunity, because it deserves it."
Although a comparatively new remedy its popularity is such, that all druggists now sell it; if your druggist hasn't it in stock, he will get it for you if you ask him, as all wholesale druggists have it on sale.

Boy suicides—Roland Rockwell, the nineteen year old son of Dr. W. L. Rockwell, of Johnston, committed suicide last night. The cause is a mystery. He was bright and energetic, could have anything he asked for, and was making good progress in his studies. He would have graduated from the Whitewater normal school soon. Friday he came home not feeling well but made his plans to go back to school in a few days. This morning he was found on the bed in his room dead. He had tied a handkerchief about his neck and twisted it tight with a chair rung. There was no letter or word to indicate what had led to the deed, but friends insisted that he had often seemed moody and peculiar of late.

Its warm weather and of course you don't feel the necessity of buying shoes as you will later, but at the same time it won't pay to spend any money repairing old foot gear and might better purchase fall shoes now than to fool with worn out shoes. Becker & Woodruff.

WHEELING WIT AND WISDOM.

Raw racing material—the knees of the novice after his first smashup at the track.

A bicycle is a good deal like a baby. A man is opposed to it on general principles until he has one of his own.

In selecting a mount look carefully to see that the pedals are not swung so low as to be in danger of striking the ground.

You can tell a new rider anywhere, but there is mighty little you can tell him that he doesn't think he already knows.

A full blooded Indian was the winner of a recent road race in Oklahoma. Again it is proved that fortune favors the brave.

The proprietors of some of the new tracks could improve both their banking and their bank accounts by the introduction of a race between steam rollers.

An extra large hole in the outer casing of a double tube tire may be repaired by using a patching plug the same as it is employed in the puncture of a single tube.

Very narrow handle bars are disadvantageous because they cramp the rider's chest and are liable to strike his leg or the frame of the wheel when turning sharply.

If your chain will click and by so doing annoy you, make a paste of powdered plumbago and lard and apply a small portion to the gear wheels. The noise will cease.

When you notice that your wheel begins to "drag," don't jump to the conclusion that it needs lubricating. Inflate the tire, and the chances are the wheel will no longer "drag."

The man who rocks the boat has forsaken that pastime, and following the drift of the times has become the man who with a brakeless wheel coasts a steep and unknown hill.

England's newest and fastest track rejoices in the peculiar name of Wood Green. It seems a fair question to ask, Wood Green not be more appropriate for an Irish rather than an English track?

A few drops of capsicum and a pinch of epsom salts added to a bucket of warm water will act as a sovereign remedy for sore feet if the offending members are soaked in the solution for about ten minutes.—Wheel.

EVIL DOERS LINE UP BEFORE THE COURT

"PADDY" MULCAIRNS IS VERY SHORT-SIGHTED.

If He Hadn't Been, He Wouldn't Have Robbed Con. O'Leary—The Bloody Johnston Row Is Being Probed—James Hagany "Leathers" Lawrence McCarthy Thoroughly.

Patrick Mulcairns did not look very far ahead when he abstracted $10 from Cornelius O'Leary's pocketbook on September 3, for if he had, he would have "seen himself" so to speak, in the municipal court this morning charged with "larceny from the person." It was charged that Mulcairns got possession of O'Leary's pocketbook on that day and took therefrom $10, returning the book and the balance of the money to O'Leary. His arrest followed and today was set as the time for his examination, but owing to the absence of a material witness for the state, District Attorney Jackson asked for and got a continuance until ten o'clock tomorrow morning. John V. Norcross appears for Mulcairns. It is said that the relatives of the defendant are anxious to pay O'Leary the money and let the case drop, an arrangement not at all satisfactory to District Attorney Jackson.

The trial of Vincennes Klecka, who is charged with beating Frank Belir with a large stone in the course of a fight at their farms in the town of Harmony, was begun in the municipal court this morning, when Klecka pleaded not guilty and called for jury trial. The jury was drawn this morning and the case was then set for this afternoon at 2 o'clock. T. S. Nolan appeared for the prosecution and J. J. Cunningham appeared for the defense. J. A. Denniston, Sutton Norris, E. S. Head and E. W. Child comprised the jury and at 3:30 o'clock the case was still unfinished.

Lawrence McCarthy Leathered. It was because he didn't fully realize what John Hagany meant when he said that he could "leather him," that Lawrence McCarthy has a sore head today. "Leathering" a person, in Mr. Hagany's vocabulary means to thump the patient on the head with a rock. He "leathered" McCarthy last night and leathered him enough. The two men had some words about the digging of a certain ditch. Hagany claimed to be a ditching expert and said that he could ditch all about McCarthy. McCarthy denied this, whereat Hagany announced his skill at leathering. McCarthy didn't know what leathering meant, but his back was up and he stated that he was able, after a fashion, to leather to some extent himself. Hagany said he wouldn't do any leathering until 6 o'clock last night, and he didn't. But at 6:35 he met McCarthy and proceeded to carry out his threat, using a stone as his weapon. Dr. Whiting dressed McCarthy's head after the leathering and sewed up three long cuts, one of which severed an artery. Feeling that he had been too well leathered to let the occurrence pass off as a joke, McCarthy made a complaint against Hagany in the municipal court this afternoon and the ancient game of leathering will be fully explained to Judge Phelps in consequence.

The burial services were in charge of the Modern Woodmen of Shopiere, the interment being made in Beloit. There was an unusually large attendance of friends at the service. Do Not Neglect Your Eyes. Inattention and carelessness in the care of the eyes often results in much harm. The first symptoms of eye weakness, be it either a blurring or smarting while reading, or pains in the head around the eyes, should be looked after at once. Glasses well fitted by W. F. Hayes at F. C. Cook & Co's, will save the eyes and restore perfect vision. The time to care for the eyes is in the infancy of their weakness.

The Henry Knox cigar is like the Knox hat, it's all right, five cents, at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy.

Collars are long and gorges low, And ample rolls are all the go; Shou dersh air fairly wide and square, And free-rolls show a collar flare. Full frills no more have skirts that bell, Nor rolls with a pot-bellied swell; And cutaways are half and half— Their tails no longer flap one's calf. D. W. Watt Shows That He Hasn't Forgotten To Hustle Since He Used To Sell Circus Tickets—Children Remembered by the Fair Management.

Do you remember how D. W. Watt used to look when he was selling 8,000 circus tickets in ten minutes? He looked that way today. His job as county fair secretary compelled it.

A fair wouldn't amount to anything if the secretary didn't do fourteen things at once on the day before it happened.

One of the things Secretary Watt did very often was to say: "Yes, sir. Everything is coming our way. It will be a big fair."

The way things looked this morning his faith is well founded. Fat stock was coming in, Art hall was full of buzzing exhibitors, merchants were putting the finishing touches on their displays and the farm machinery men were setting up exhibits that represented lots of money.

There is a good programme for tomorrow. From 10 to 12 the children's games and races will be held. At 1 o'clock sharp the trotting begins. The entries in the 2:35 trotting class are Staubhope, Fairfield Boy, Isabelle, Bell Boy and Nestor, Jr. The bicycle races are set for four o'clock.

There will be three races, the three mile handicap, the one mile handicap and the quarter mile open. The handicaps were received by Dr. C. T. Peirce today and were:

	1 mile	3 mile
F. K. Chare	scratch	scratch
W. M. Pioning	scratch	scratch
Charles W. Hodson	75	150
A. K. Wheeler	75	150
Charles Reynolds	50	150
George Schoolcraft	125	300
Bert Lincoln	125	300

Evansville and Edgerton as has been hoped. Each nine wanted to say who should play on the other side, and it was impossible to bring about an agreement. But what is one ball game more or less when a show like the county fair is in prospect.

Care Should Be Taken That Your Homes are Well Dis

LOVE IS FOREVER.

Love is forever—think no more
You give and take your heart at will.
'Tis mine—or was not mine before.
You never loved or love me still!

You seemed to hate—appeared to love.
But one was false; choose which you will.
You hate? Your love a lie has proved!
You loved? Why, then you love me still!

Then say no more your love is dead.
Nor death nor hell true love can kill.
Were it a dream, it might have fled,
But love, you loved, and love me still!

—Atalanta.

HE HAD PITY.

Jabez Wilson, whose 52 years of life had been passed in single blessedness, had little in common with the rest of the world.

His faults were many and his virtues few. His two redeeming points—call them virtues if you will—were generosity verging on weakness in individual cases and a love for music.

Late one night he came out of St. James hall, buttoned his coat up round his neck, dived his hands into his pockets and made for home. On the way he entered a cafe and took a cup of coffee.

As he sipped the beverage his ear, ever on the alert for music, caught the sounds of a voice that was at once rich and melodious.

Jabez listened attentively for five minutes, during which time the song continued, with short intervals of silence. At length it stopped altogether. Jabez asked the waiter attending him to fetch in the person singing.

The waiter returned in less than a minute ushering in a young man of distinctly Italian cast of countenance, whom he introduced as Luigi, the bottle washer.

"Well, my man, you have an extremely fine voice. Did you know that? With due care and rigid training there ought to be both fame and fortune in it. You would like to be something better than a bottle washer all your life, eh, my man?"

Luigi, in a wondering sort of way, nodded.

"That's right—that's right, my man. Here is my card. Come and see me at my house tomorrow at half past 6. I want to have a serious talk with you. Can you come?"

"Yes, sir—that is, no, sir. Not tomorrow. I work till 11 every night during the week."

"Oh, oh! Such is the irony of fate," muttered Jabez. "Can you come on Sunday?"

"Yes, sir, I will come."

True to his word, Luigi, clothed in his Sunday garments, found himself in Mr. Wilson's drawing room the following Sunday evening.

"Luigi, you have a most charming voice. It is at present in what I may term an embryo form. The foundation is there in all its strength, and a couple of years' careful training will place you without a doubt in one of the top-most branches of the vocal tree."

"You must make a point of cultivating your voice on every possible occasion, Luigi. Avoid those articles of food which I shall give you a list of, that your vocal chords may retain the sweetness, strength and fullness that now mark them."

"Your clothes, too, are unsuited to the pupil of a vocal professor. You must fit yourself out like a gentleman, Luigi. You must exercise care and take a pride in your personal appearance. In short, be in every respect worthy of your profession."

As Luigi's profession was that of bottle washer at an Italian restaurant, he naturally failed to see how he could well give further evidence of his occupation than by the suit in which he appeared before this strange gentleman. And he said so.

"Dear me. Of course. I must explain to you, Luigi, what I propose to do. I am too hasty. First and foremost, do you like music?"

"I am an Italian," was the modest reply.

"Grand. A most fitting answer. Now we will come to business. Would you like to give up your present menial occupation and become, first, the pupil of a musician, and then a master of the art you will excel in?"

"That is beyond my hopes, sir. I have no money."

Jabez Wilson threw up his hands.

"That's all right. I will see to that little matter. Give me the assurance that you will put your whole heart into the work I have cut out for you and will do your best. I ask for nothing more."

A few days later Luigi left his situation and became the protégé of Mr. Wilson. To say that Luigi was grateful would be to put the feeling he evinced toward his benefactor in very mild terms. He could find no way of expressing his gratitude beyond making himself as perfect in his art as it became possible for him to do.

"Luigi," said Mr. Wilson one day, "I am delighted to tell you that it is now beyond the capabilities of English masters to teach you further. It remains for the masters of your native land to instill into you that little required to render you their equal, if not their superior. I have decided therefore to take you to Naples, where we will spend the next year or two."

For the first time since their odd acquaintance Luigi failed to hail an announcement for his benefit with any sign of pleasure or satisfaction. He looked gloomy and hesitated to speak.

"You have always been extremely kind and good to me, Mr. Wilson. I cannot by any possible means express my gratitude. But the suggestion you have made, although entirely for my good, fills me with pain. I cannot leave England, because—because I am going to get married."

"The dickens you are!" roared the infuriated bachelor, mad with rage. "This, sir, is the way in which you show your gratitude. You Italian dog, you scoundrel, you!"

He stopped short. What an idiot he was. Luigi was only flesh and blood, and young blood at that.

"Luigi," he began after the silence of the moment, "is this girl of yours a suitable partner to accompany you on your upward career through life? You will stand at the head of your art, and you will move in the highest circles of European society."

"She, whatever her post in life now, may be ill fitted to grace the drawing rooms of the aristocracy or to sit by your side in the carriage that draws you to your mansion."

"You love her now; she is everything to you. Time may be, however, when you may be led to make odious comparisons between her simplicity and the winning faces of beautiful women."

"My kind benefactor, that is impossible. I shall always love Maggie as much as I do now."

Jabez Wilson sighed. It was a sad blow to his vanity and to his peace of mind.

"Think it over, lad," he began. "When the first pangs of grief at parting are passed, you will forget about your lowly girl in the whirlwind of your fame, and she will soon put you from her mind. Come to me tomorrow and let me know what you intend doing."

The next day Mr. Wilson received a visit from Maggie. She came in tears to beg his consent, his heart was touched at the sight of a woman in sorrow, and reviling himself for a cold blooded monster he told her in an outburst of generosity to go and marry Luigi as many times as she liked.

After a twelvemonth spent in Italy Luigi became perfect. His first appearance in public was made as Gerardo, and as he retreated behind the curtains that night old Jabez Wilson waited to press his hands and to tell him that his dream was at last realized.

Jabez Wilson walked out of his solicitor's office penniless. The bank of which he was principal shareholder had failed, and this, in conjunction with a few minor disasters, had robbed him of every penny he had possessed.

He had never in his life done a stroke of work and was not even capable of a clerical position.

The apartments he had occupied were given up. The club was never again to see him or hear what had become of him. The fine old wines in his cellar fetched sufficient to pay his long standing rent, with a surplus to keep him in food and lodgings for a few weeks—that was all.

From his scanty store he drew a penny every day to search the papers for news of Luigi's success. He could not bring himself to write to him and to tell him everything. It was pleasant enough to know that the man whom he had dragged from obscurity should at that moment be making Europe vibrate with the splendor of his voice. One night as he crouched over the fire in the doss-house he frequented reading the paper a short paragraph at the foot of a column caught his eye.

"Early yesterday morning the body of a woman was found in the Grand canal at Venice. She is said to be the wife of Signor Luigi, the well known singer, with whom she is supposed to have led a wretched life. There are no marks of violence on the body, and the authorities have passed a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane."

Jabez Wilson's forecast had been realized only too fully, and the broken down man cried like a child.

A week later he stood outside the doss-house with exactly a penny in his pocket.

He stood wondering what he should do, when his musical instincts, which had been crushed and had lain dormant for so long, arose within him. He hurried along the street, entered a shop and purchased a tin whistle with his one remaining copper.

An hour later and he walked slowly along the middle of the road, his threadbare coat buttoned up around his neck, an old battered hat pressed tightly down over the straggling gray hair that blew in the cold wind, and his dry lips pressed against the whistle.

He was playing "Home, Sweet Home"—that was all he knew.

In front of a resplendent hotel he stood and played, with one foot on the pavement. A tall, black bearded gentleman, evidently a foreigner, wrapped in a priceless fur coat, came down the steps of the hotel, in company with a beautiful woman, under the full glare of the lamp.

Instinctively the instrument fell from the lips of the player as he muttered half aloud:

"Luigi!"

The Italian peered into the pale, pinched, upturned face.

"So you have come to this, eh?" he asked in a whisper, lest his companion should hear, at the same time drawing half a crown from his pocket, "my unfortunate friend."

He turned abruptly, half ashamed, when the woman by his side told him to come away from the beggar.

"I come, I come." Then, as she took his arm she handed her into a brougham. "I have pity for these poor musicians."—Pearson's Weekly.

Lime-water.

It is well known that lime-water has a beneficial effect on the growth of children, and in countries where the drinking water is impregnated with salts of lime the men are apt to be tall. An English medical authority states that for a perfect sanitary diet alkaline water is needed for every person who eats heavily of meat, and this means nearly every one excepting the vegetarian.

Are an Index to Age.

An acute observer has noticed that all the young women riders on the wheel wear skirts, while the elderly females go in for bloomers. There is one thing certain—let this observation be spread broadcast, and there won't be a bloomer visible anywhere. No woman would ever wear a garb that proclaimed her age. It is again nature.—Philadelphia Press.

DESIGN FOR NARROW LOT.

Commodious and Pleasing Exterior—Can Be Built Inside $2,500.
[Copyright, 1895, by George Palliser, Architect, 32 Park place, New York.]

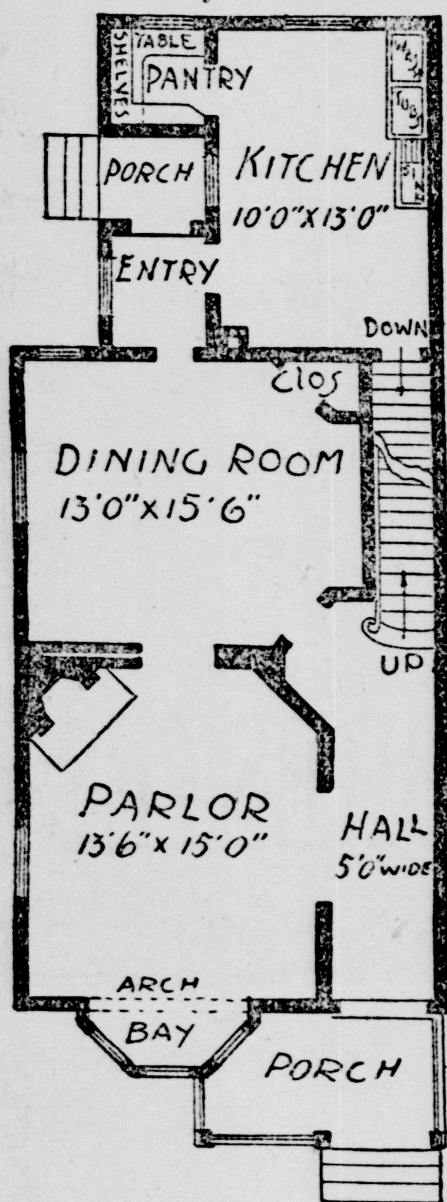

It is a good thing in the building of a home to aim at consistency. This is hard to do for the inexperienced, for the reason that few know the exact purchasing power of a given sum, and they are apt to let their ideas and wants overlap the cost mark. This is perhaps one reason why in times gone by so many people who have built homes have patterned after some other house they have known the details of, and on account of this knowledge have been willing to start from the standpoint of where their neighbor left off. This method has, however, been by the progress made the last few years generally relegated to the rear, and today the home builder wants something more attractive than his neighbor, and a variation of design is thus obtained which is very much to be encouraged, as the greater the variety the more picturesque and pleasing any neighborhood becomes.

The greatest aim in the erection of a home should always be to be consistent with your wants and with your ability to pay, and keep these two points within the circumference of the artistic and other superfluous needs, and you will be safe as to the result.

This is an excellent plan for a narrow lot and one that will give full satisfaction for a good sized family, and for the price named the plumbing, of kitchen sink and tubs as well as the bathroom, ought to be included.

Plan.—A two story frame cottage, suitable for erection on 25 foot lot; 20 feet front, 44 feet deep. Height of stories: Cellar, 6 feet 8 inches; first story, 9 feet; second story, 8 feet 6 inches; cellar walls of stone below grade level, brick over; an open fireplace is provided in the front parlor; portable range for the kitchen. Interior woodwork: First floor, whitewash, stained; balance of pine, painted; cellar under the whole house, cement floor; walls of first and second floors hard finish; piped for gas; plumbed complete.

Exterior: Frame sheathed and clapboarded first story; balance shingle finish. This is a good house for suburban situation and an excellent house to build either for a home or as an investment.

When to Paint Your Houses.
Paint applied on outside work in autumn or winter will last twice as long as when put on in summer or hot weather. In the former it dries slowly and becomes hard, glazed surface, not wearing off by terms or easily affected by the weather, while in hot weather the oil in the paint links into the wood like into a sponge, leaving the lead on surface dry and easy to crumble off. Painting in cold weather also avoids the annoyance of flies, which collect on green paint in the warm season.

Jack the Giant Killer

Was not a more persistent foe of the huge ogres he demolished than the great national tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is to all manner of all disagreeable symptoms caused by indigestion, constipation or biliousness. Heartburn, sick headache, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, yellowness of the skin, nausea, fur upon the tongue, are manifestations always removable by the Bitters. Thoroughness, promptitude characterize its remedial work. As a safeguard against malaria it has achieved a world-wide reputation, the foundation of which was laid forty years ago. Physicians speak of it in the highest terms. Its efficacy in rheumatism, and kidney troubles is well ascertained. Appetite improves, sleep visits weary brains and overwrought nerves when it is used. It is suited to the most delicate and fastidious of invalids. It fully merits a fair and continuous trial.

He Was Both.

"Is Mr. Hunter in?" inquired a stranger, as he entered the store of Hunter & Fisher, grocers.

"No, sir; he's gone out fishing."

"Well, perhaps I could see Mr. Fisher?"

"No; he is hunting in Marin county."

"Hunter is fishing and Fisher is hunting, eh?"

"Yes, sir."

"Hunter is a fisher and Fisher is a hunter, eh?"

"Yes, sir."

"And I'm hunting for Mr. Fisher and fishing for Mr. Hunter?"

"Yes, sir; I suppose so."

"Then I'm a hunter and a fisher too?"

"Yes, sir; they'll not be back to-day."

"I'm both, and they ain't but one apiece, eh?"

"I guess so, sir," and the clerk commenced to eye the stranger suspiciously.

"Of course I'm both," and he handed out his card. Upon it was engraved: "Fisher Hunter."

Diarrhoea should be stopped promptly. It soon becomes chronic De Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure is effective, safe and certain. Hundreds of testimonials bear witness to the virtues of this great medicine. It can always be depended upon. Its use saves time and money. C. D. Stevens.

When to Paint Your Houses.

Paint applied on outside work in autumn or winter will last twice as long as when put on in summer or hot weather. In the former it dries slowly and becomes hard, glazed surface, not wearing off by terms or easily affected by the weather, while in hot weather the oil in the paint links into the wood like into a sponge, leaving the lead on surface dry and easy to crumble off. Painting in cold weather also avoids the annoyance of flies, which collect on green paint in the warm season.

Exterior: Frame sheathed and clapboarded first story; balance shingle finish. This is a good house for suburban situation and an excellent house to build either for a home or as an investment.

THE FAIR SEX IN THE SADDLE.

All Sorts and Conditions of Women and How They Look on Wheels.

There is the girl who sits unsteadily on her saddle and wabbles from her waist up like a badly made blanchmange.

There is the girl who leans far forward in imitation of the "scorcher" and fondly imagines she looks professional and is gaining speed steadily in that position.

There is the girl who leans far back, her body at an angle of 45 degrees, and "drives" her wheel as a modern Jehu does his horse.

There is the girl who will ride on a low hung saddle and whose knees punch the air as she rides.

There is the girl who rides wearing a worried look, seeing neither to the right nor to the left. She bows not to her mother, nor to her father, nor yet to the stranger within her gates.

There is the big fat woman, looking as if she had been split on her wheel and had "run over" the sides of it. She rides to reduce her flesh. There is the scrawny and scraggy girl, built on the architectural plan of a hatrack, riding to gain a little needed adipos.

There is the girl who grasps the handle bars with a clutch of death and wouldn't let them go for all the gold of Indies or of Or. There is the girl who rides jauntily erect and steadily on a high saddle, guiding her wheel with one hand, the other hand on the hip pocket of her little bloomers. There is the girl who rides, inwardly loathing it, because she thinks it's swaggy to wheel; there's another who rides to prove that there is nothing in this fin de siècle age she can't do; there's the new woman who rides to show she is emancipated; there's the girl who rides for the sake of her suit and the girl who rides because her sweetheart wants her to; there's the rich girl who rides because she has found a new toy to spend her money on, and there's the poor girl who rides because she wants to do as the rich girls do.—American Wheelman.

THE WOMAN ON A WHEEL.

One thousand Kansas City girls ride bicycles.

To be or not to be—in bloomers—that's the question which is now agitating the feminine mind in the City of Mexico.

Miss Nellie C. Rhodes of Washington recently rode ten miles in the very fast time for a woman of 32 minutes 15 seconds.

The Wheel says that Jenkins says his wife's mother has bought a bicycle, and the first thing she did was to blow up the tires.
